Next Mission Home Care is a home healthcare agency that will provide healthcare practitioners to help with recovery from illness, surgery or injury recovery, and signs of aging. The agency will assist the elderly, disabled, and any other individual who seeks assistance. Next Mission Home Care will help with in-home tasks so that family members can focus on being a family rather than a caretaker. These caregivers work with the individual and their families to meet their overall needs. In-medical home care means that caregivers come to the consumer's place of residence and stay to the desire of the consumer for the following assistance:

- dressing and bathing
- companionship
- housekeeping, laundry, and chores
- Alzheimer's and Dementia care
- preparation and serving meals
- transportation to appointments, errands, and shopping
- hygiene and toileting
- disability service
- medication reminders
- walking
- exercise
- respite care
- transportation
